Obesity in the UK is killing millions and costing billions! In the last 30 years there has been a 380% rise in obesity and as many as 30,000 people die each year prematurely from obesity-related conditions, costing the NHS over £5 billion and the UK £30 billion per year. Obesity Action Campaign: supports high level scientific research to prevent obesity-induced diseases especially of the liver, pancreas and cancers; educates families and expectant mothers on the dangers of obesity; raises public and political awareness of obesity and its adverse health consequences.
